Dental Polishing Dust Collecting Outfit

Whenever an article of gold, or in fact of any other metal is polished or buffed, a certain part is removed. This occurring all day long amounts to a considerable value. What the true value is cannot be definitely understood until a dust collecting system is installed. Then the valuable particles are saved in the tank underneath the bench and are easily recovered in a lump sum. Then again the powerful suction of air at each buff drawing in the dust makes the polishing work a pleasure, preserves the health of the operator and keeps the surroundings neat and clean. The outfit we offer is shipped all complete as shown, ready to run and can be supplied for any electric current. It is made up especially for the use of Dentists and for Dental Laboratories, is strongly built and will last a lifetime.

For use with Buffs up to 4 inches diameter.
 Length of spindle, tip to tip of taper points, 14 inches.
 Spindles up to 20 inches over all furnished if required.
